TechNote Compile

From OpenDSSWiki

The Compile and Redirect commands are similar but have key different behaviors:

- Compile leaves the current directory at the directory of the last file "compiled".

- Redirect returns to the directory from which it was issued.

You can redirect to a relative pathname such as

Redirect Beachhaven\master.DSS

or to a full pathname such as

Redirect C:\MyProject\Beachhaven\master.DSS

The file Master.DSS may contain many other Redirect commands with only local file reference.

When done with Master.DSS, the DSS resets the current directory to where it started.
